How to apply for exemptions with an accredited degree
If you hold an ICAS accredited degree you must submit a full Academic Transcript detailing all the courses completed at University, complete the Exemption Application Form and the Exemption Grid for the degree you hold.

Please note:
- Exemptions can only be claimed if the degree is less than 3 years old at the time of commencing CA training with ICAS.
- The exemption request cannot be progressed without a copy of your full Academic Transcript being submitted at the time of application (these transcripts cannot be returned).
- Exemption applications will not be accepted by email.
- The deadline for submitting applications for exemptions is Friday, 27th July 2018.

Preparation for Test of Professional Skills (TPS)
You are applying for exemptions from Test of Competence (TC) subjects. This knowledge will be developed further at Test of Professional Skills (TPS). As you may have covered topics some years ago, it is your responsibility to ensure this knowledge is refreshed and up-to-date. It is essential to complete some revision before starting classes to ensure you can keep up with the new material at TPS. You will be required to sit an Assumed Knowledge Test before classes start.

We recommend that you start this revision as soon as possible, using either your University notes or the TC notes on the website. A summary of the key topics covered at TPS by subject can be found as pre-course information on the ICAS website. Once you are enrolled as a student you will receive a student number and password to access the ICAS website.

Please ensure that all the information you submit is secured together (e.g., stapled, treasury tagged) and is easily identifiable to your application. Any other queries regarding exemptions should be directed to the Exemptions Administrator who can be contacted at studentservices@icas.com
The following degrees have been accredited by ICAS:

- BA (Hons) Accounting and Finance
- BA (Hons) Accountancy

On successful completion of the modules and requirements agreed by ICAS and Birmingham University these offer exemptions from certain Test of Competence classes and examinations. The modules and requirements relating to each of the Test of Competence subjects are detailed below.

On applying to ICAS for exemptions, you are required to complete the following tables and submit this to ICAS with a completed Exemption Application Form and Academic Transcript from Birmingham University. There is no requirement to submit module outlines.
